👨‍🎤 Why Me?
"As a ReactJS frontend developer, I'm always looking for ways to improve and I have strong skills in writing technical documentation for digital products and services. I also have experience in the communications field as a community manager or digital marketer. Finally, my rich experience of 10 years as a volunteer in the health sector has enabled me to develop a particular gift for empathy, listening, persuasion and bringing people from different backgrounds together."
